

DON'T MISS OUT. ORDER YOUR COPY NOW!

AMTIL – The Source covers an extensive range of relevant industry topics and includes information not found elsewhere economically.

The 2010 edition sold out because:

- It informed people on important industry topics
- It informed people about the Australian Machine Tool and Technology market
- It helped people make decisions based on the outlook data it contained, both from an economic point of view and industry sector point of view
- It helped people get connected with government programs and initiatives
- The Industry Capability Directory connected people to inform, educate and do business.

Because the 2010 edition sold out, don't miss out on the 2011 edition which will become available at the end of March 2011. Advance bookings are being taken. (Refer over).
