Australia's Advanced Manufacturing
Year Book and Capability Directory.

Proudly Sponsored by:

Available in printed and electronic format, AMTIL – The Source covers an extensive range of topics and includes important information not found elsewhere that is important in running any business associated with manufacturing in Australia.

AMTIL- The Source 08/09 was very well received and feedback about the comprehensive information and large range of topics it covered was extremely positive.

This year we have gone one step further and combined the comprehensive range of updated important reference information with a much sought after industry capability directory which does not exist elsewhere in Australia.

Again this edition of AMTIL – The Source is a must have and is available at a very competitive price.

- Manufacturing performance and sentiment
- Key global industrialised economies including details on:

Capability Directory

The capability directory alone is a must have reference source as there is nothing else like it in Australia.
